Bespoke Training for your Science Department

Planning your training days for the next academic year?

Would you like to provide your staff with high quality bespoke Science training?

We can support you by:

- Identifying your training needs
- Tailoring the content of science training to your needs (full day, half day, twilight)
- Reducing costs by providing one session for all members of a school or MAT.

Training can be targeted at the areas you want to work to develop and can be arranged to run on a school training day removing the need for staff to be covered.

We have recently provided successful training to local schools on topics including 'Working Scientifically' and 'Assessment'

Please contact us at training@burytrust.org to discuss your training needs in more detail.
